Sir:

1. On February 27, 2004, the above-captioned patent application was filed with the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office including the following two inventors: Richard M. Onyon and Liam J. Stannard. It was believed at that time that these were the only inventors of this invention.
2. After the patent application was filed, an additional review of the application and the claims was conducted by the originally named inventors.

3. During this review process it was realized by the originally named inventors that a third inventor, Robert E. Garner, and a fourth inventor, Leighton A. Ridgard, should be added to the list of inventors for their contribution to the present invention as defined by the claims.

4. Robert E. Garner and Leighton A. Ridgard were not included as originally named inventors because it was not realized at the time of filing the application that their contribution to the present invention was included in the claims. There was no intent to deceive when Robert E. Garner's and Leighton A. Ridgard's names were not included as inventors on the application. As soon as it was realized that Robert E. Garner and Leighton A. Ridgard had contributed to the invention, as defined by the claims, appropriate steps were taken to add their names as inventors.

5. I hereby declare that all statements made herein of my own knowledge are true and that all statements made on information and belief are believed to be true. Further, these statements were made with the knowledge that willful false statements and the like are punishable by fine and imprisonment, or both under Section 1001 of Title 18 of the United States Code, and that such willful false statements may jeopardize the validity of the application, any patent issuing thereon, or any patent to which this declaration is directed.
